

DEFINITIONS

norms: general rules or expectations about how things should be generic you: a usage of you that conveys a broad temporospatial generalization